

Burford and Neighbourhood Oxfordshire

12th – 14th July 2019

Our eighth Society meeting saw us back in one of John Meade Falkner's favourite towns (and where his ashes are buried) – Burford. Although few in number, the weekend was thoroughly enjoyable. The Bull's Head, now known as The Bull at Burford, served as our base, although we were in different hostelries. On Saturday, we had a fascinating tour of the surrounding countryside, stopping at Taynton, Chedworth Roman Villa, Fairford Church and Kelmscott Manor. That evening, the Friends of Burford Church played host to us in their beautiful church. Our Chairman gave a talk on JMF and all the latter's first editions were on display. On Sunday we revisited Minster Lovell Church and its atmospheric Manor House.

Taynton Church

Chedworth Roman Villa

Fairford Church window

Kelmscott Manor

Burford Church gathering

Minster Lovell Manor